

BIRDING TRIP REPORT:

Eco Action Tours

www.ecoactiontours.com

Boquerón State Forest Puerto Rico

Destination:

Located at the south-western tip of Puerto Rico, Boquerón State Forest is a major rest stop for migratory birds. Made up of two types of habitats, mangrove forests and brackish water lagoons, this area attracts at least 118 species of birds, including the endangered yellow-shouldered blackbird.

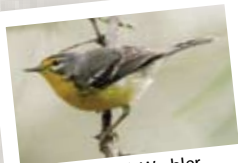

© Reiner Munguia

Yellow-shouldered blackbird

Highlights, Day Four:

After a morning shelling along the soft, light-golden sands of Boquerón beach and exploring the salt mines of Cabo Rojo, I meet my group at the entrance of Boquerón State Park for an afternoon of birding. Naturalist guide Emilio Font leads us along the forest hiking trails and boardwalks. A few minutes in and I have already spotted an Adelaide's warbler, an endemic species, whose song Emilio tells us can be enjoyed by visitors year round. Yip-Yip-Yip—we hear another call and follow the loud cries to find a group of black-necked stilts feeding right next to some greater and lesser yellowlegs! Unfazed by us, the birds continue feeding while I capture some amazing pictures.

Adelaide's Warbler

This Trip Report Filed By

Eco Action Tours: www.ecoactiontours.com

More Great Puerto Rico-based Tour Operators

Adventours: www.adventourspr.com

Copladet: www.copladet.com

Amigos Tours & Travel:

www.amigospuertorico.com

Pure Adventure:

www.pureadventurepuertorico.com

More Birding Information

The Conservation Trust of Puerto Rico invites you to join their nature interpreters on birding walks throughout their different nature reserves.

For more information visit: fideicomiso.org

Puerto Rico Tourism:

GoToPuertoRico.com/audubon

